RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

DEPARTMENT OF KINESIOLOGY
DR. ELAINE CHOUNG-HEE LEE

He is currently researching how the cells of our bodies adapt and react to stress. When we exercise, the cells, the tissues, and the organs in our body experience stress in a number of ways. His goal is to better understand the mechanisms that our cells use to adapt to these stressors and to identify genes without our DNA that we can target to allow us to better withstand different types of stress.
